At Waveland

It may seem a wee bit odd for the writer of what is commonly (and perhaps truthfully) known as a gossip column to expound on the subject of rumors, but when two stories, grossly exaggerated, in fact quite untrue, happened to be called to our attention within 20 minutes of one another, we figure it's time to sound a warning. In one instance word was all over town that a hospital patient had passed away—this was easily slipped in the bud with a call to the hospital and conversation with the supposed corpse—who was very much alive and apparently well on the road to recovery—the other tale, equally far fetched had a family of new residents constructing any number of potentially dangerous structures in their yard—think the worst rumor had it an ammunition storage house when in reality it was merely a garage.

Now really, how silly can supposedly intelligent adults act??? We're all going to listen to some gossip—that's only human, but please before you pass along any information, check your facts... a false death report could cause much grief if a member of the family happened to hear such talk—so much for our lecture of the week... let's check up on a few Thanksgiving plans here and there.

A time to give thanks

Thanksgiving, as any other holiday in our area, is quite a festive occasion. . . most observe the day with family dinners. . . others eat early (or late) and spend the day dropping in on friends for a bit of cheer. The Bordages clan will gather at the camp for a large get-together as is their annual custom. Barbara and Bubba White are anticipating quite a crew—there'll be Bubba's brother, wife and four children, his mother and perhaps Barbara's mother also. The Jack Morris are looking forward to a visit from Mrs. Morris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McEliduff of Choudant, La. Polly and James McConnell will have their usual mob including son, Jimmy, and wife, Shirley, who are now living in New Orleans (they formerly resided in Lafayette) and of course June, Van and the little O'Guinnas from Morgan City. Emily and Jimmy Baker and four children will be guests of Emily's parents, Fay and Robert Vaughn. Year-round weekenders will also turn up by scores. Such faithfuls include Winnie and Jack Holm, Yvonne and Jack Humphreys, the A. W. Stahls the William Ogden, Kiki and Eddie Carrere, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Locascio, Dr. and Mrs. Phillip La Nasa, Emmie and Eddie Montgomery and so on and on. We've been missing neighbors Jeanne and Fred Lister and family only to discover the reason for their absence is that Fred is recovering from extensive chest surgery—hope they'll be able to return to their summer home in the very near future. Jeanne's brother, Joe Wymer, who with wife Louise was enjoying an outing at Haverty's Tuesday night, was the source of this information.

Fellow newspaperman and long time weekender, Julian M. Sherrouse, Jr. assisted by his aunt Mrs. J. Walton Sherrouse (who cooked the delicious spaghetti which was served) entertained at dinner last Saturday night. It was sort of an informal housewarming to display extensive renovating of Julian's Old Spanish Trail home. Guests were Polly and James McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. S. Logan McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. James Robert and houseguests, Mrs. Edwin M. Hacker of Pensacola, Fla. and Mrs. James P. Erwin of New Orleans. Mrs. Charlotte Ann Riley, Mrs. R. Bland Hightower, Mrs. and Mrs. Basil Cockshot, and Adelaide Wyatt and son Steve. Which brings us on:

Mystery of the week

During the process of remodeling the Sherrouse home thought to be nearly 100 years old, Julian found a solid brass wagon license plate stamped "Wagon License Bay St. Louis, Miss. He is most interested to learn the age of the attractive plate which has proved to be quite a conversation piece. . . anyone know when such were issued????

Bowling skill must run in the family or something. . . Bordages Shipyard team is presently leading the Bay Belles league and Bordages Fishing Camp holds top spot in Bantam competition.

Welcome to Waveland

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith who formerly lived on Highway 43 and have purchased a home on Jeff Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Muehl who recently moved in their Vacation Lane residence.

Little Elizabeth Ann Garcia, Pat and Bugie's second daughter arrived at Hotel Dieu on Friday, Nov. 9, weighing six pounds, 15 ounces. The young lady is Isabel and Mel Villere's fifth granddaughter Mattie and Lloyd Garcia's fourth.

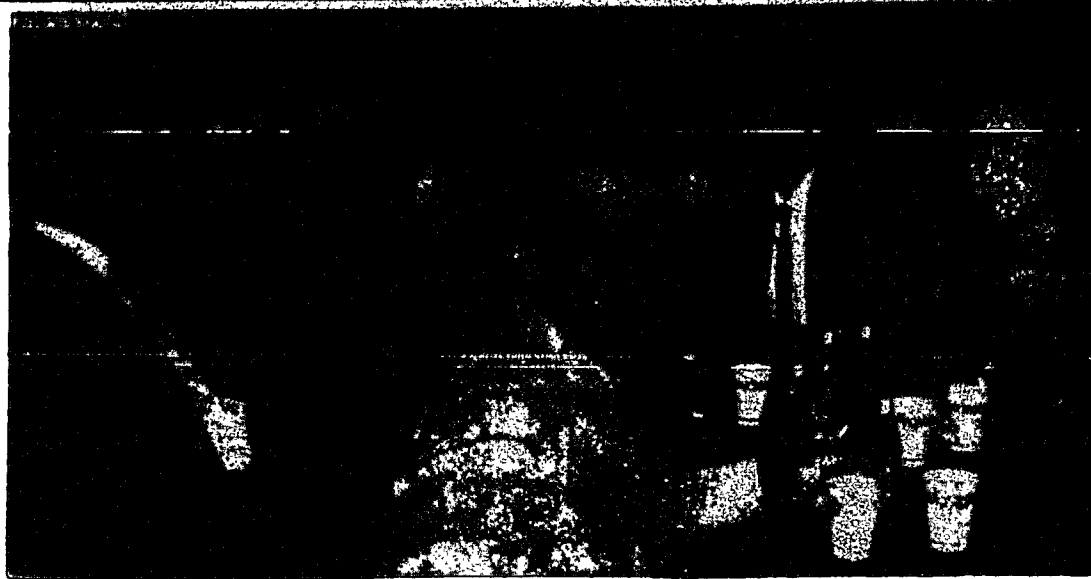

Bay side of the news

Obviously a number of local residents have taken up a new type of "fruit basket turn-over". . . except that it happens to be in the form of house swapping—the O. O. Swords got the ball rolling by vacating a home on DeMontuizn to move to Toulouse—Mae and Theo Tudary moved into the home they had just left—Dottie and Dan Russell are going to reside in the former Tudary home after which Mrs. E. N. Spence, having sold her Waveland Beach home to a family from Jackson, will henceforth occupy the Russell's brick residence in the first block of DeMontuizn—at least I hope that's the way it goes—at this point I'm dizzy—just hope everybody remembers which house they now live in! Mamie and Max Gianselli and children Jeanine and Timmy are spending the holidays in Baton Rouge with Max's mother, Mamma Gee.

Mrs. Julia Hathaway and children are in Birmingham, Ala., where they are Thanksgiving guests of former residents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt. Quite a crowd from the Bay attended homecoming festivities at the University of Southern Mississippi last weekend—two local alumni, Mike Haas and Mrs. Joanne Williams received singular honors at the banquet having been selected as outstanding graduates—quite impressive as only 13 such awards were made.

Smeloise advises

This is really only of interest to new brides as anyone who's been married over six months has undoubtedly picked up this trick already. . . nothing will turn even the most even tempered husband into a snarling monster quicker than the discovery that no preparations for dinner (or supper if you insist) have been made when he arrives home from work. . . this can easily be combatted even if you only hear him from a box card game by a scant five or six minutes. If you haven't time to change into a house dress or jeans, cover your garb with a large fluffy apron, rumple a lock of hair and alone dishes on the table—remember it's important to use a bright cloth or colorful doilies to distract his mind from the absence of food—a few flowers or a candle will aid in this deception—now hastily plug in the coffee pot and put water in a covered pot on the stove—she fact that it's empty is rarely noted and the steam is most effective—then grab every ingredient necessary for salad, spread it all lavishly around on the drainboard and while a tomato as he enters the door—believe me, it works every time! He'll be in a sufficiently amiable frame of mind to devour even a tv dinner! Betty and Frank Klein celebrated 14 years of wedded bliss most appropriately on Nov. 14.

Gerrit Blanchard and son Chip left Friday for Vidalia, La., where they visited Gerrit's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Spall.

Agala affair

The Fireman's Ball was one of the gayest gatherings we've enjoyed in many a moon. . . it was just about as successful as any such affair could possibly be—much credit goes to all members of the Volunteer Fire Department and auxiliary. . . everyone worked faithfully, but general chairman Rose Garza and assistant Ruth Goelzenleuter gave full time efforts before, during and after the dance. The only possible complaint was the fact that there just wasn't room at the Yacht Club (or anywhere else locally) for the mob that turned out—residents of Clermont Harbor really meant what they said about showing appreciation for the Waveland firemen answering calls in their locale—at least half of the population were present. . . some of them were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Daspit, Mamie and Lloyd Garcia, Lillian and Harold Garcia, Betty and Frank Klein, Jr., Elsie and John Klein, Nettie and Harold Burleigh, Irene Graff, Gert Robertson, Doc Duffin, Buck Ladner, Joyce and Fritz Garcia, Marius and Bert Ladner, Jay Lemant, the Lemie Rapps, Josie and Clarence Herbig, Gloria and Herb Peterson, Sylvia and John Yost, Pat and John Gohres, Mercedes and Bob Spahr and Florence and Phil Curacci, our for the first time since the arrival of their second daughter in August. The Bay also supported the beneficiaries were the James McDonalds, the Clarence Ladners, Nolan Kingston, Jane and Bobby Benvenuti, Katherine and Bob Steele, etc. Waveland must have been almost empty Saturday night—a few (we would fill the whole paper if we attempted to list even half) were Bobbie and Max Treilles, Gladys Noonan, Clarisse and Oswald Villere, Ella Jensen and Buddy Dufour, Dot and Jim Mayfield, Isabel and Mel Villere, Leo Casvas, Yvonne and Eddie Virgilio and "Uncle Bud", Lillian and Adrian Chagnard, Betty Hava, Bessie and Lester Haverty, Ann and Henry Develle, George and Bob Torgersen, Dot and Merline Marini, Cleo and Joe Smith, Barbara and Bubba White, Ann Langley and Ed Rehr, Fran and Bob Lucas, Gladys and Harry Blanka, Winnie and Jack Holm, Yvonne and Jack Humphreys, Mariya and Kenny Fayard, Claire and Otto Bourgeois, Zelida and Leo Ferrell, the Earl Casabons, the William Fords, Ora May and Camie Herbig, Beulah

General next week, Kitty Mollere has all of our sympathy—she has a broken toe—hers was sustained in even a "cukler" manner than ours of last summer—husband Otto is quite syph-like as the result of his diet, but still carries enough weight to bend oes when accidentally sits on same!

Happy birthday wishes to to Mable Bourgeois who celebrated last Wednesday, Nov. 14, to Little Rusty Thorning, his was the 15th and to Betty Dora who

On the sick list

The sick list remains full, we're sorry to state—Mayor Garfield is much better after being taken ill suddenly last Wednesday shortly before he was to make the welcoming address at the Postoffice dedication. Shirley (Mrs. Johnny) Ryan has been released from Gulfport Memorial, but is confined to her home; Tos (Mrs. Chris) Ladner is another who is under the weather; and Gert Robertson will undergo eye surgery at Hancock

'Tis horrible!!!

Ever since the distasteful scenes and publicity surrounding the admission of James Meredith, Negro, to the University of Mississippi occurred, elements of a larger canvas keep appearing.

Merged in this panorama are actions by the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, such as asking that criminal contempt proceedings be brought against Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson when the court has not yet set the penalty in the companion civil action against these defendants, which might easily be thought a form of blackmail; statements and actions by Attorney General Robert Kennedy that can only be thought of as blackmail of Mississippians; an interpenetration, if accurate, instruction to the grand jury, by Mississippi Circuit Judge Walter M. O'Barry, illegal searches and seizures, reminiscent of the Gestapo, by federal officers; high-handed incarceration of ex-Gov. Edwin A. Walker, a suit for damages against federal officials; a grand jury indicting two for actions during the "incident" and finding that "illegal action on the part of McShane (chief U. S. marshal) set off the tragic violence"; et cetera.

Some of these aftermaths, such as Mr. Cyril Faneau, Jr.'s, suit against McShane and deputy Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, seem without stretch and may help clear a muddled situation.

Now we learn of two more: the room of an Ole Miss student, who with five others had a meal with Meredith, was ransacked, and the Jaycee national headquarters unprecedentedly refused Mississippi's organization use of their mailing facilities to distribute the state organization's documented report on the Oxford incident.

While under the circumstances we more than question the judgment of other Ole Miss students voluntarily breaking bread with Meredith, it is their right to do so if they wish, and those who ransack their rooms for whatever reason not only break the law in a cowardly way but hurt their own cause. Where the action of the national Jaycees is concerned no law is involved, and we can only surmise that it was taken with the aim of concealing the true picture of what took place at Oxford, but also we can think it nauseating and defiling of the fine picture this organization has painted by its other endeavors.

That these United States were a government of laws and not of men have long taken for granted as we have the idea contained in "I disagree with everything you say but will defend to the death your right to say it". Apparently we have been a modern Rip Van Winkle, and 'night makes right' and "brainwashing" have come to the fore.

'Aint it horrible!'

BLOW GABRIEL - This is the 30 by 12 foot horn, shaped like an oversized trumpet, now being used at the Hancock County test facility of NASA. Not as powerful as a rocket engine, it still is capable of detection over a range of 10 to 15 miles. It is as loud as about nine freight trains and because of its construction is able to direct all that sound out one direction at one time. Since NASA scientists can estimate how much louder than the horn the static tests will be, they will then be able to tell under what weather conditions noise from the test firings might disturb people in neighboring areas.

Stage crews named for theater play day and notified Sheriff Gerald V. Price. Footprints indicated children had boarded the boat which had no motor, oars or anchor. Deputies Gerard Freeman, Donald Marquar and Cedric Heitzman commenced a search and Strong, through binoculars, finally spotted the skiff drifting into the open waters.

Civil defense personnel were called and the sheriff notified neighboring cities. A number of small craft were forced back to shore by heavy seas but Boat Unit 62 of Harrison County sheriff's department, manned by Paul Wenger and George Collins, arrived at the rescue scene just after the local crew had picked up the kids.

Appreciation was expressed for immediate response to calls for help and to Bernie Piazza for launching the search craft. Had the children not been rescued before dark, Elliott expressed doubt they could have been saved.

Mrs. Ruth Miller, Christmas Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charbonnet and her co-hostess, Mrs. Rasmussen.

cuts her cake today, Nov. 22. Mairan and Sammy Peznicario have nothing but praise for the Waveland Volunteer and Bay St. Louis fire departments and the many friends who prevented fire from a gas explosion in their newly remodeled home from turning into a holocaust. BY MRS. MALCOLM GREEN

Mr. and Mrs. Camille Asher of U. S. 90 extend thanks to all who came to their turkey shoot last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Asher is disabled after the amputation of one leg, and these get together help out financially. Winners of turkeys were Donald, Marquar, Ed. Green, Joe Bourgeois, Frank Trapani and Daniel Ne-casse.

The Cuevas and Garcia clans all met at the Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center Sunday afternoon for discussion of ways and means to press their claim to ownership of Cat Island. After the meeting Mr. and Mrs. David Wainwright and Mr. Wainwright's sister, Mrs. Lodner, came by our place for a little visit. Mr. Wainwright builds beautiful fire places that never smoke. Nothing we own has brought more enjoyment to the whole family as the one he built for us, assisted by wife, Iona, who is an expert carpenter herself.

Roy and Evelyn Fayard's tiny beauty salon was bulging at the seams all day Saturday, with Waveland ladies getting the latest in hairdos for the Fireman's Ball which was held Saturday night in the Yacht Club.

Proud Mama Evelyn had the new baby, Roy, Jr., in the shop, for all to admire.

My mother and stepfather Mr. and Mrs. Leander Villmear are out in Madisonville, Texas, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clint Walker, who are parents of my brother's wife. While there, Papa Leander hopes to bag a deer. Several weeks ago my nephews, Edward and Eugene Strickland, brought home one weighing 180 lbs. dressed.

This is a good time of year to get your fire lines plowed. Already several woods fires have caused considerable damage to the pine trees.

Mrs. Larry LaFontaine was honored Saturday evening with a stork shower in the residence.

Jake and Odessa Schwartz were over last weekend. Work on their house is progressing slowly as Jake is doing it all himself. Their little girl Jacqueline has been in the hospital again. They have really had a hard struggle and must be commended, for the loving care they give their little girl. So many would shirk their responsibility, but not Jake and Odessa.

Ran into Ruth Frierson Saturday. Husband W. C. is off working on a boat and Ruth is over-seeing repairs on their place. Everyone hopes Ruth responds her restaurant soon.

She can cook the best chicken and dumplings I've ever tasted.

Pine trees were cut Sunday on the grounds of St. John's Catholic Church here. The dream of a new church is at long last becoming a reality. The present one will be moved to the rear of the grounds, and services will go on uninterrupted while the new church is being built.

Loggins defeated Gulfview Thursday night in their first basketball games together. There was only one point difference in the first string game while the second string girls drew a tie.

Mrs. Shirley Ryan is at home recovering from a caesarian section performed last month. Shirley must make weekly visits to her medic but tells me she is beginning to feel her old self again.

Mrs. Rae Cope is busy these days converting her big house into two apartments, since she has had so many offers for the smaller house she now occupies.

Melvin Lasich, former national guardsman is home finishing the new home he recently had built. John Erskine, Jr., is now employed at Industrial Enameling Co., along with Bobby Lader and Ray Skinner.

Thanksgiving

Aboard their small sailing vessel anchored off the New England Coast November 11, 1620, forty-one heroic Englishmen signed the Mayflower Compact which, according to William Bradford, was to hold in check the restless individuals on board, who had threatened to strike out on their own when they landed. This became America's first venture in self government.

In establishing the Plymouth Colony, these Pilgrim Fathers suffered the hardships of a bitter winter. With food scarce and disease prevalent, nearly half their number died. They soon discovered that their original compact for the common ownership of property and crops was not workable. Several were lazy and seditious and refused to assume their responsibilities, expecting favored treatment, but equal returns. So America's first experiment in socialism failed and was abandoned.

These pioneering Pilgrims then turned to the principles of private ownership and individual effort, as the only hope of immediate survival and ultimate success, to sow the seed of capitalism in the New World.

With a successful corn crop in 1621, Governor Bradford decreed that a day be set aside to express thanks to God for an abundant harvest and His guidance and protection.

As we observe the anniversary of that first Thanksgiving Day, it is well that we do so reverently, and that we rededicate ourselves to the preservation of the American concepts of individual responsibility, character, thrift and self government first established and commemorated at Plymouth by our Pilgrim Fathers.

Harry hears ... Bowl Fever hits nation

With the conclusion of the 1962 collegiate football season almost at hand, the annual question of "who'll play where on Jan. 1" can be heard throughout the country. Actually only about half the major post-season bowl games are played on New Year's Day. The Gator Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl, and Liberty Bowl all come up '62, along with numerous other lesser games which include the Sun Bowl, Tangerine Bowl, etc.

The Sugar Bowl holds the most interest in this area, since many Hancock Countians attend the game in person. Ole Miss is almost a "shoo-in". The Rebels won't play in the Orange Bowl because of the integration situation, aren't eligible for the Rose Bowl, and probably will not want a second straight Cotton Bowl appearance.

Alabama and Arkansas are the prime candidates to oppose Johnny Vaughn's powerhouse. The Tide's head mentor, Paul (Bear) Bryant, has been very cautious regarding an appearance against the Rebels, but after Alabama's upset defeat at the hands of Georgia Tech last week he will have everything to gain and nothing to lose if he plays in the Sugar Bowl.

Arkansas almost surely will be willing to play in the Sugar Bowl. Should Texas lose their television Thanksgiving contest to Texas A and M today, however, Arkansas will win the Southwest Conference Championship and an automatic berth as the host team in the Cotton Bowl. With this unlikely look for an Ole Miss-Arkansas Sugar Bowl with Alabama a second choice to Arkansas. An Ole Miss-LSU rematch is still another, though extremely small, possibility. Georgia Tech is also in the picture.

Texas vs. Alabama?

A victory for Texas in today's game will give the Longhorns the Cotton Bowl host position. LSU will oppose Texas if the Tigers accept an offer, and chances of that happening are almost certain. Alabama is in the Cotton Bowl picture, too, although the Orange and Sugar Bowls have the best shot at landing the Tide.

Oklahoma is Orange Bowl bound, as official representative of the Big Eight. Alabama and LSU again are the top contenders to oppose.

The "Granddaddy of them all", the Rose Bowl, is practically set. Wisconsin and Southern California are almost sure to represent the Big Ten and Big Five, respectively, in Pasadena.

The Liberty, Gator, and Bluebonnet Bowls will take what's left—the Gator usually gets best pick and almost always comes up with one of the top post-season events. Its hard to foresee opponents in those bowls, but it looks to us like a Penn State-Georgia Tech, or Miami-Duke Gator Bowl, and a Missouri-Auburn Bluebonnet Bowl. Florida also is a possibility for the latter two games.

Green Bay and New York will probably square off in the NFL Pro championship game Dec. 30, and Houston and Dallas appear headed for the AFL Pro title contest. Anyway, we'll know in a few weeks.

Football forecast

Looking in this week's crystal ball, we found a smirking, witch-like face staring back, only reminding us of last week's tough week. We were 12-8 after a 17-2-1 previous Saturday. For the season we have a 98-33-9 chart, just short of hitting 75 per cent correctly. In the Southeastern Conference LSU gets the nod over Tulane, Kentucky is an upset pick over Tennessee, and Auburn is our choice over Florida State. All other SEC eleven take the week off and will finish their season the following Saturday.

Around the nation, we'll take Texas over Texas A and M on Turkey Day, Miami over Northwestern in a big intersectional clash, Wisconsin over Minnesota, Notre Dame over Iowa, Southern Cal over UCLA, Air Force over Colorado, Duke over North Carolina, Michigan State over Illinois, California over Stanford, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Dartmouth over Princeton, Missouri over Kansas, Penn State over Pittsburgh, Oregon over Oregon State, Memphis State over Detroit, Arkansas over Texas Tech, and Clemson over South Carolina.

VCJ cage card set

Boostered by the return of seven veterans, Coach Willie Bradley's Valencas Jones Tigers will open their 1962 basketball campaign Dec. 1 in a Biloxi tournament. The VCJ Tigerettes will also see action in the tourney, and both squads will see home activity first Dec. 7-8 in the annual VCJ Pre-Christmas Tournament.

Returning from last year's quintet which posted a 14-13 record are: Tyrone Curry, J. W. Fields, Robert Vonture, Cleve Williams, Joe Tate, Sullivan Bell and Albert Mullins. Joining the squad for the first time are: Harold Price, Thaddeus Williams, Walton Wavers, Frank Jackson, Will Dorsey and Stanley Fadconnet.

Six players return from last season's Tigerette team which ended with a 17-9 mark. Eardine Dorsey, Rosa Siles, Carolyn and Doris Robinson, Lorraine Frederick and Gladys Mullins join new members Linda Young, Anne Haynes and Marilyn Price to form the backbone of the sextet. Other first year players are Elaine Bradley, Gaynell Lewis, Juanita Thompson, Mary DeJournett, Carolyn Malone and Stella Lang.

Robert Wavers will serve as manager for both teams, and Harold Bell and John Acker are trainers. Edwin Williams will be scorekeeper for the Tiger contests, while Jessie Ferrell will be Tigerette scorekeeper. Complete VCJ schedule for Dec. 1, Biloxi tournament; Dec. 5, North Gulfport, there; Dec. 7-8, VCJ Pre-Christmas Tournament; Dec. 11, Randolph, there; Dec. 14, Thirty-Third here; Dec. 19, St. Rose here; Jan. 9, Thirty-third there; Jan. 11, Biloxi here; Jan. 15, Randolph here; Jan. 18, Poplarville here; Jan. 23, North Gulfport here; Jan. 28, Poplarville there; Jan. 30, St. Rose there; Feb. 1, Moss Point there; Feb. 4, Biloxi there; Feb. 8, Moss Point here; Feb. 9, Pass Christian Tournament; Feb. 15, Picoyune there; Feb. 19, Picoyune here.

Both teams will also participate in tournaments at Picoyune and North Gulfport, with dates to be announced later.

Rocks vs. Aloysius for MCC grid title

The Mississippi Catholic Athletic Conference football championship goes up for grabs Friday night in Vicksburg when St. Aloysius of that city plays host to the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws in the league playoff game. Both teams won their only 1962 conference game, setting up Friday's post-season contest.

Coch Billy Murphy's Rockchaws ended their regular season Sunday, losing 30-0 to Hahnville, La., to wind up with a 3-6 record. The locals won three of four home contests but dropped all five road games.

The Rockchaws fell behind 14-0 in the first quarter at Hahnville, and lost all chances of victory when the Louisianians added 16 fourth quarter points.

The Stanislaus offense, though kept scoreless, chalked up 190 yards rushing and passing and nearly everybody in the backfield saw action. Middle guard Larry Fee led the Stanislaus defense. The 230-pound senior has been the direct cause of 13 fumbles by the opposition during the last two games.

Five players are doubtful performers against St. Aloysius. Guard Ken Andrews, tailback Vic Jorda, ends Dale Burke and Arthur Wynne, and Paul Aucoin will all probably sit out the championship tussle.

St. Aloysius enters the game with an 8-1 record. The two teams both earned the right to a share of first place with a win over Notre Dame of Biloxi, only other competing team in football competition. The newly-formed Catholic Conference expects more members in the future.

Sixteen seniors will complete their high school football careers with Friday's skirmish, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. The Stanislaus Band and the Rockchaws will accompany the team, leaving for Vicksburg Friday at yune here.

Both teams will also participate in tournaments at Picoyune and North Gulfport, with dates to be announced later.

Bay boxers take on Gonzales Saturday night

Bay boxers will meet a team from Gonzales, La., at 8 p.m. Saturday in the National Guard armory on Washington Road for their second match of the season. Manager Buck Price announces.

Fifteen fights are planned but the line-up has not been completed. Locals appearing for the first time will include Ernie Netto, Lamar Ledner and Jordan Bradford. Among veterans fighting will be Harvey Mitchell, T. J. Fayard and Frank Battelford.

Officiating will be J. V. Morreale, Robert Ladner, Terrell Randolph and Joe Hartigan of New Orleans. This will be the seventh match of the revived Bay Boxing Club which sports a 3-3 record to date.

Harrison Central girls trip SJA

After being tied 18-18 at halftime, Harrison Central girls cagers pulled away for a 43-33 triumph over St. Joseph Academy Tuesday night for the Gold Jays' second loss of the infant season. Jo Mary Artigues led SJA scoring with 17 points and Susie Rhodes tallied 14. Jane Perry led the defensive play. Toll Jerry Evans of Harrison Central topped in 22 points.

Bay Jays and the B team will play Harrison Central junior high girls at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the local gym where new collapsible bleachers have been installed. The varsity will be playing in the Poplarville tourney.

Peterson leads Hawks in near-win

The Pearl River Central Blue Devils were forced to come from behind in the second half to defeat stirred-up Hancock North Central 20-14 at North Central Friday night, completing the 1962 football season for the Hawk 11.

Coach Ezell Lee's Hawks took a 14-13 halftime lead and after the Blue Devils scored a second-half touchdown, North Central almost pulled the game out of the fire.

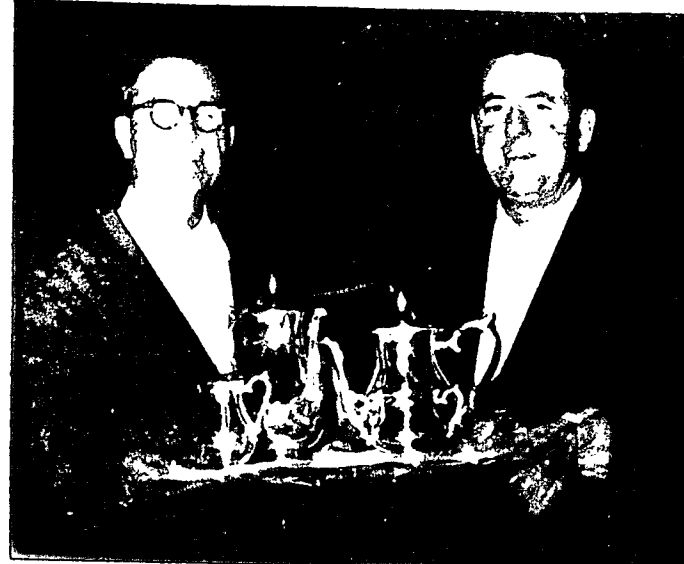

Quarterback Eddie Peterson talked the first Hawk touchdown early in the game on a short run, then passed to halfback Paul Cuevas for the extra point.

In the second quarter Peterson again met with success through the air. The sophomore quarterback combined with end Berlin Lachner for another TD, and added the PAT himself to push the Hawks into their half-time advantage.

In the second half, a 15-yard penalty against North Central aided the Blue Devils in their touchdown drive. After the score, the Hawks drove to the Pearl River Central nine yard line before losing possession on an interception.

Lee, who completed his first season at the helm of North Central football, complimented his team's efforts. "We were well-pleased with all our boys—it was a real team effort, and we thought we could have beaten them," he declared.

Lineman Doyle Moore is the only North Central regular who will be lost through graduation this year, hinting a promising future in store for the Hancock Countians who prior to this season had not captured a victory in grid competition. The Hawks final '62 record is 1-9, the lone win coming over Kern School.

SILVER FOR THE WINNER - Jules Soulie, left, tournament chairman at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club, presents this handsome silver service to Giles Peresich of Biloxi Sunday as Peresich won the PCI Invitational for the second straight year.

Gold Jays lose, Bs score overtime win

Handicapped with the graduation of their entire 1961-62 starting team, St. Joseph Academy dropped a 37-22 basketball decision to Fiberville Thursday night at SJA in the opening game of the 1962 cage season. The B team scored a thrilling 36-34 victory in a preliminary contest, winning in overtime.

The SJA varsity played on almost even terms with Fiberville for two quarters, but could manage only four points in a disastrous third period. The Gold Jays trailed 10-5 after one quarter, 16-12 at halftime, and 30-16 as the final stanza opened.

Jo Mary Ardigues led the scoring for Mrs. Joseph V. Colson's sextet with 11 points, while Susie Rhodes added six markers. Jans Ferry, Mizzi Blanche and Ellen Colson led a good SJA defensive alignment.

Tigers, 2 Hawks make all-star Thomas picked as conference lineman

Bay High and Teddo Thomas was named the Gulf Coast Conference's outstanding lineman Monday night at a loop meeting at Ocean Springs. Coach Lance Lumpkin's Bay Bengals were awarded the league championship trophy.

Thomas joined tackle Bill Pahlman, halfback Don Saucier, and end Frank Miller as representatives from Bay High on the 22-man conference all-star team. All are seniors. Junior end Berlin Ladner and senior tackle Doyle Moore were picked to the team from Hancock North Central.

Ocean Springs' Jack Milton was voted the league's top back and Pass High Coach Lawrence Allen was named coach of the year.

Pearl River Central of Carriere requested membership in the seven-team conference, but no action will be taken until the next meeting in March.

Thomas was the third Bay High lineman of the year in the conference's four-year existence. Jim Mayfield and Woody Alliston claimed the honor in 1959 and 1960. Thomas merited the award because of his tremendous defensive ability which included countless tackles, numerous interceptions, and the knack of making the big play. He also did an outstanding job on offense, scoring one of the two Bay High touchdowns in the championship-deciding game with Ocean Springs. His place-kicks for extra points also aided the BHS championship drive.

Hawk eagers romp over D'iberville

With Lionel Hoda leading the way, Hancock North Central varsity quintet opened its 1962-63 season with a 66-33 win over D'iberville Tuesday night.

Dwight Slade paced the losers with 14 points while Hoda got 22.

Coach Billy Sills said his squad looked good on rebounds, tippins and generally moving the ball.

The Hawk B squad with all 13 members seeing action literally shellacked the D'iberville Bs, winning 71 to 26. Wendell Ladner tossed in 22 points for the host Hawks while Alton Roberts showed the losers' best effort with 7.

Carroll-Glass nuptials held

Miss Colleen Elizabeth Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Glass of Waveland and New Orleans, became the bride of Egan George Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Carroll of Bay St. Louis, at a quiet ceremony in Bay Minette, Ala., on Saturday.

Following a brief honeymoon on the coast, Mr. Carroll left via jet for San Diego, Calif., where he is stationed with the U. S. Navy. After completion of an overseas tour of duty, Mrs. Carroll will join her husband where he is to be stationed in the states.

Pahlman, along with Thomas, was a defensive standout in the interior Tiger line. Miller won his position with a tremendous performance throughout the season at defensive end. Saucier led Bay High ground gainers all year, topped the team in pass receptions, and was the team leader in the defensive backfield.

Moore, lone senior on North Central's starting team, held together an inexperienced Hawk line. Ladner, also an all-league basketball selection, was the top pass receiver for the aerial-minded Hawks.

Others elected to the team from the various member schools were: Ocean Springs: guard Ricky Riviere, linebacker Freddy Denison, tackle Frank Galle, and end Jimmy Cook; Pass High: center Wayne Peterson, tackle Ernie LeBeau, and Larry Ladner, and halfback Lloyd Seltzer; Long Beach: tackle Thomas Hooker, fullback Terrell Bechler, halfback Richard Daniels; Harrison Central: tackle Gilmore Hollingsworth, halfback Mike Walters; St. Martin: quarterback Don Fountain, guard Walter Svanzy.
